

ANNOUNCEMENT

Based on the Scholarship Call for IBCM Students, Protocol No. 2270 dated 04 November 2025, the Evaluation Commission has continued the review of all applications submitted within the designated deadline. Throughout this process, the Commission has identified several objective factors that have affected the duration and workflow of the evaluation, thereby making an extension of the deadline necessary. In accordance with institutional procedures, the authority to approve such an extension rests exclusively with the institution's senior management.

The main reasons supporting the extension of the evaluation period until 20 November 2025 are as follows:

- The high number of applications received requires additional time to ensure a comprehensive, impartial, and equitable assessment of each candidate.
- The submission of incomplete or inaccurate documentation by some applicants has necessitated additional verification and clarification, thereby extending the overall evaluation process.
- Certain minor technical discrepancies and the absence of detailed evaluative guidance within Call No. 2270 have required further institutional consultation to ensure consistent and fair application of the established criteria.
- The institution's commitment to upholding integrity, transparency, and procedural accuracy necessitates that the evaluation process not be rushed, in order to avoid compromising the credibility or administrative defensibility of the final results.

In light of these circumstances, IBCM Management deems it essential to extend the evaluation period until 20 November 2025, ensuring that the process is completed in a professional, accurate, and fully compliant manner with the conditions outlined in the Scholarship Call.

